

DIVING REGULATOR NECKLACE

A simple and reliable way to keep your second-stage regulator securely positioned and within easy reach while diving. Made from durable, flexible silicone, the necklace sits comfortably around the neck and allows your regulator to hang naturally beneath the chin.

The flexible silicone construction provides a secure fit without the deterioration associated with traditional bungee cord, making it a practical choice for regular recreational, professional and commercial diving.

Easy to fit to a regulator second stage, the necklace helps keep your regulator exactly where you need it, allowing quick and convenient access when required.

KEY FEATURES

Durable silicone construction for repeated use in demanding diving environments.
Flexible design allows the necklace to move naturally.
Soft silicone provides a comfortable feel around the neck.
Positions the second-stage regulator conveniently beneath the chin, keeping it close and readily accessible.
Easy regulator attachment to the second-stage regulator mouthpiece for quick setup.
Secure positioning helps prevent the regulator from drifting away from the diver, keeping it consistently positioned where it is needed.
No bungee cord deterioration – a durable alternative to traditional bungee cord, which can deteriorate over time.
Low-maintenance design makes the necklace easy to use and maintain as part of your regular diving equipment.
Suitable for multiple diving applications.
Compact & Lightweight – Adds minimal bulk to your diving setup while providing a practical solution for regulator management.

DESCRIPTION
REGULATORS
STOCK CODE
MOD-ITEM-MOUTH PIECE

