

WEIGHT POCKET FOR WEIGHT & TRIM HARNESS

A unique approach to managing weight and buoyancy, fine tuning your weight distribution.

The Northern Diver Weight and Trim harness has evolved over several years and is now the most comfortable and ergonomic it has ever been. It has a loyal following of divers who swear by it's ease of use and ability to trim the weight distribution around a diver's body.

Once in use, the weights are securely fastened but can be easily and independently jettisoned if required. The pockets can be used for carrying weights or cargo.

Made from the same durable fabric of our Weight and Trim harness, you can purchase the weight pocket as a spare or replacement for the original that comes with the harness. These sturdy replacement weight pockets slot easily into the pocket housing and click into place via the buckle that holds the three-pronged squeeze clip of the housing. Offering plenty of space for our lead weight blocks or lead filled pouches, the weight pocket closes securely using a hook and loop fastening. There's also a hook and loop patch attached to the weight pocket webbing so you can further adjust the webbing length. This enables you to comfortably secure the weights providing additional support and stable weight distribution for the wearer.

Compatible with both the V1 and V2 Weight and Trim Harness Designs.
