

VOYAGER QUEST WHEELED TRAVEL BAG

This clam-shell bag makes a great deal of use out of its compact rectangular shape. The two cushioned and zipped compartments, the bottom one slightly deeper than the top, have a generous amount of capacity between them.

There is a removable cushioned divider and a mesh pocket in the bottom compartment to help keep smaller diving equipment secure. On the top of the bag, a large zipped compartment, protected by coiled guards in the corners, can accommodate the vast majority of diving fins - the pocket measures 65cm x 30 cm.

Two external zipped pockets provide yet more capacity. You will also receive a Northern Diver wash bag and silicone luggage tag with the Voyager Quest Bag. As well as the ultra hard-wearing Cordura that it is manufactured from, the Voyager Quest Bag has numerous features to keep your dive gear safe when travelling. The two compartments connect with a flap-protected zip, and two adjustable clips help keep the contents secure.

The bottom is rigid and curves up both ends. On top of that, a heavy-duty textured PVC base, that extends partly up all sides, provides a robust base for the corner guards, runners, heavy-duty wheels and wheel guards.
